

ERD above the line will be created by us and its data will be created during operations. The ERD below the line will hopefully be from pre-existing databases or the data will be pulled in from external sources.

